The Netherlands A dream, sir, a dream of gold and smokeÂ© and, more smoker during the day, more painÂ© Ã night, and night and day this dream A© poplÃÂ© of Lohengrin like these, filming himself vividly on his black bikesÂ high handlebars, funÄbres swans that spin fearlessly, all over the country, around the seas, along the canals. They are, the not in their nudees coverses, they walk in circle, pray, sonÂmbulos, in the incense pain Â© da nÂ© voa, they are no longer the ÃãÃo They're gone.Â Thousands of pounds, for Java, the distant . They pray to these crimson gods of the IndonÃÃã© sie, from whom they have garrisoned all their windows, and who at this moment wander over ³, before they cling, like sumptuous monkeys, to the insignia and to the staircase roofs, to remember Â Â Â those notorious colonists that Holland is not only the Europe of merchants, but the sea, the sea that worries me Cypango and these sÂ¹ men die mad and happy. Preview Preview Loading PreviewSorry, preview is currently unavailable. You can download the paper by clicking the button above. Fortunately, there's the geniMvre, the only glow in the fields. You don't feel the golden lightAnd, , what it puts on you? I like walking inÂ by the city, night, in the heat of the geniMvre. I walk nights a night, or I talk endlessly. (...) This father inspires me there. I love this people, full of lime, trapped in a small space of houses and waters, cernâ© by mists, cold lands, and the smoking sea like a laundry. I love him, because he's a double. He's here and I'm somewhere else. But yes! The ATÂ© cost your heavy steps, in the pavÂ© gras, ÃÂ Don't you think they'll pass wildly between their shops, full of painÂ© herring and colorful jewelry of dead leaves, don't you think they're here today? You, like everyone else, don't think that these good people are a tribe of trade unions and traders, counting their Han of eternal lifeÂ©, and whose only lyricism consists of sometimes covered with chapÃ ©us wide, with anatomies? You're not wrong. They walk for ³, not true, and yet, see 1 are their beings: in this not ©fly of anÃ© on, of ginger and hortelÃ£ that comes from the red and green signs. If the Fall is a disturbing text, it must also the beautÂ© of sonÂ© criture que ÃÂ the flexion that arouses is notÂ© cessarily in the reader. The successive µ of Clamence, which do not take place in his and, do them as a passing way, without stopping, yet they do everything to retain the reader's affection. Laughter in the convA ©s that denies, kindly (he insists on this character that he could have taken from something other than a total), the character's pretention and self-satisfaction, the woman's
